 SHELTON STUDENT CHOSEN CONTEST SEMI-FINALIST

Shelton student, Lisa Howell, has been chosen one of 16 girls to be pictured in the February issue of TEEN magazine.

Miss Howell, daughter of Elizabeth Howell, is a regional semi-finalist in the magazine's fourth annual Great Model Search sponsored by the Gillette Company.

Sixteen semi-finalists will be featured each month in TEEN magazine through September. Judges will then select 16 regional super semi-finalists to be featured in TEEN's October issue. Two finalists from each region will be pictured in the November issue and the winner will be selected from these two girls.

 SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

There are scholarships available to Shelton State Community College, according to Humphrey Lee, dean of students and chairman of the scholarship committee. To apply for a scholarship, according to Dean Lee, a student must go by Lorine Lowe's office and pick up an application. For more information on the scholarship program, contact Dean Lee or Mrs. Lowe.

 SHELTON'S ACCELERATED HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

If you know a high school student interested in earning college credit before he graduates, you need to refer them the Shelton's Accelerated High School Program. Any student who has completed the tenth grade can enroll at Shelton during the summer and take up to ten quarter hours of course work. A student can also enroll at Shelton for up to ten quarter hours during the summer following the eleventh grade. During the senior year, a student can enroll at Shelton for up to five hours of course work each quarter, or a possible total of fifteen hours of credit during the senior year. For more information on the program, contact Dr. Randall Jarrell or any counselor in the counseling center.

 ATTENTION RTI STUDENTS

Students interested in enrolling at RTI for the Summer and Fall quarters should contact Mary Anne Z. Thomas in the counseling center. Applications are available to students who have completed 15 or more quarter hours toward the degree and have a grade point average of C (2.0) or better. RTI applications must be received by the RTI admissions office by February 1, 1984 for the Summer quarter and April 1 for the Fall quarter.

 FROM THE FIRE COLLEGE

The Fire College has a new fire training instructor. Philip Hughes former fire chief of Andaleusa is joining the staff of the Fire College beginning in February. Hughes is already in Tuscaloosa looking for a home. More information on the Fire Chief's Appreciation luncheon scheduled for Saturday, February 11, at noon in the Junior College auditorium. The wives of the fire chiefs will be treated to a tour of the corporate headquarters of Gulf States Paper Corporation.

ED WHITE PRESENTS LECTURE WORKSHOP

Mr. Ed White, chairman of the voice and opera departments at the University of Alabama, will present a lecture-workshop at the Junior College Division on Wednesday, January 25. Mr. White is a nationally noted voice teacher and has performed leading roles on the operatic stage throughout his career. He has been at the University of Alabama for the past seven years and has trained many singers who are now performing professionally in the United States and abroad.

During the workshop, Mr. White will discuss his approach to training the voice, how training will help a singer to apply a good technique to any style of music which he would like to perform, and what a student can expect should he decide to continue his education at the University. Mr. White will also listen to three voice students, Tresa Hardin, Debbie Jackson, and Bryan Jones.

The workshop is open to the public and will be held in the auditorium from 11:45 a.m. - 1 p.m. Anyone interested in singing is invited to attend.

SHELTON SINGS CARMEN

Shelton State Community College will present the concert version of "Carmen" by Bizet, May 10-12, in the Junior College auditorium. Sponsored by the music department, the opera-comique is based on the spirited l'amours of Carmen, a young gypsy woman.

Auditions for the production will be held on Friday, February 3, in the music room from 1:30 - 3 p.m., according to Syble Coats, director of Shelton's music department. "There are four principle soloists and five minor characters. The auditions are open to any student at Shelton State Community College. Anyone who auditions must prepare one solo (an accompanist will be provided)," Mrs. Coats said.

Anyone interested in reading the story can find the plot and story in Kobbe's OPERA BOOK in the library.

MISS SHELTON STATE PAGEANT SATURDAY

The 1984 Miss Shelton State Pageant will be held Saturday, January 28, at 7 p.m. in the Junior College auditorium. Tickets are $2 advance and $3 at the door and are on sale at all Austin Food stores and the business office of the Junior College and the Technical Division. The winner of this scholarship pageant will be the representative at the Miss Alabama Pageant this summer. The winner of the state pageant will represent the state at the Miss America Pageant. Miss Shelton State will be awarded $250 scholarship money as well as many gifts and prizes.

The twelve girls competing for Miss Shelton State are Danniell Romain Wood, Robie Ann West, Jannifer Felecia Thomas, Renee Raines, Debbie Jackson, Allison Holt, Tracy Leigh Gunter, Chandra Fleming, Kim Fields, Tina Day, Stephanie Ruth Beaty, and Teresa Annette Hill.

A one-day workshop as well as a color coding session at the Technical Division was held in preparation for the pageant. The session on color coding, the new craze sweeping the nation, was held at the cosmetology department under the guidance of instructor Kay Watts.

To begin the color coding process, all makeup is removed and swatches of materials are draped over the individual so that the most flattering colors can be determined. The colors are selected according to skin tone, eyes, and hair.

The women are divided into seasons, winter, spring, summer, and fall. The most becoming colors for makeup and clothing are determined by the family season the person belongs.

At the workshop this past week, Naomi Martin, owner of Naomi's School of Modeling and Charm, Agency, worked with the contestants, helping them improve their stage presence and poise. Toni McMahon, makeup consultant, showed the contestants the best way to apply makeup for the pageant. Shelton instructor Jim Jolly held a voice and diction workshop and Joanne Henderson, former Miss Alabama in the Miss USA Pageant, talked to the women. Donna Thornton, Miss Wheelchair, Alabama and 1983 Miss Shelton State, Lisa Plowman, formed a special panel to answer questions the contestants had.

TECHNICAL TALK

The cosmetology students are beginning classes in color coding. Last week the twelve contestants in the Miss Shelton State Pageant were shown the correct colors they should wear by the cosmetology class.....The Technical Division will offer a special course in computerized drafting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 5:30 - 9:30 p.m. This is an advanced course for anyone who has had experience in drafting or the beginning drafting course. The 80-hour course will cost $75 with a $5 application fee. For the first time, an evening air conditioning course will be offered by the Technical Division. The course will begin Spring quarter, March 5.....A planning committee meeting for the Vica II contest will be held Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the learning resource center.
